

March Bears V Cambridge Exile's

This was March's last game of the Greene King Premiere merit table competition, and they wanted to finish in style. Cambridge came with 13 players and March loaned them players Matty Day and Connor Harris to even the side's up.

Playing with a small breeze behind them it was not long before March had their visitor's on the defensive, several times March came close to scoring, but sheer persistence paid off when hooker Stu Vincent powered over from 8 meters out, veteran stand off Colin Buck converted.

March put together good passage of play between backs and forwards, which allowed hooker Stu Vincent to score his second try of the Match, again excellent kicking form Colin Buck increased the score to 14-0.

March appeared to ease of the pressure allowing Exile's more possession of the ball, and their tight head prop started to make in roads into March's territory with some powerful running and only the strong defensive line of March's back's using the old swing door method kept Exiles from scoring.

March started to dominate the game again, and flanker Ben Saxby touched down in the corner, and the aging Colin Buck who may have lost a few yards of pace, showed that he still can kick with the best of them with another great conversion, to send the Bears 21-0 in at half time.

Another switch round of player's unsettled March for the first 15 minutes of second half as Exile's scored two unanswered try's to reduce March's lead 21-10, Veteran Steve Howell's broke through Exile's defence to off load to Ben Saxby to score his second try of the match, unconverted.

March forward's went up a gear and Stu Vincent popped up to score for his hat trick of try's of the match, converted by Jonathan Beavis to increase their lead to 33-10, again Exile's hit back with a converted try to reduce the score to 33-17.

As exile's head's dropped March again scored when Liam Siddon's out paced the visitor's defence to score another unconverted try.

March's last try went to the old work house who week in week out has been a rock in March's defence, Jamie Kerse side stepped his opposite back, raced in to touch down under the post's Matty Day elected to kick this 'easy conversion' but spooned the ball wide. March ran in 43-17 winners.

It was a sound performance with Hooker Stu Vincent getting the man of the match with his best performance for 2 years.

Next week it is the Town's V Village's Match at the BRAZA sports field all players who attend will get a run out. The VPs are also having a buffet lunch just before the match 1pm. The entertainment goes on with club disco and karaoke in the evening.
